A TOTAL LOSS.

SCHOONER BARELY ESCAPE-HER CARGO

[Special telegrams to the Disnatch.] NORFOLK, VA., November 12, 1874 .-- The schooner Louise Crockett, of Rockland. Me., Captain A. A. Flanders, laden with coal, from Baltimore bound to New Haven, Conn. when off Smith's island was compelled to put back on account of winds, and when off Trimble's lighthouse, Chesapeake bay, was run into, about 9 P. M., by the steamer Old Dominion, of the Old Dominion Steamship Line, while steaming her usual course. The schooner was struck in the bow, and sunk in seven minutes in six fathoms of water. The cargo is a total loss. The master and crew lost everything, and barely escaped with their lives by getting aboard the steamer. The Old Dominion is badly injured, and had to be towed back to Norfolk, and will be taken hence to New York for repairs.

Lights were plainly seen by both boats. It is claimed that a miscalculation of distance caused the accident.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT OF THE DISASTER.

Norfolk, November 12 .- Intelligence was received in the city this morning that the Old Dominion Company's steamship Old Dominion, which sailed from this port on Wednesday evening for New York, had collided with a schooner at the Horseshoe, in the lower bay, and been so much disabled as to prevent her machinery from working, and also that the schooner had been sunk in six or seven fathoms of water. The Old Dominion Company's steamship George W. Elder was at once dispatched to the assistance of the Old Dominion, and upon the arrival of the Hampton she was also sent her services not having been needed. The Elder towed the disabled steamer up is far as Chamberlaine's wharf, where she was taken in charge of by the steamer Olive and the tug Nettie, and towed up to the wharf of the company. The Old Dominion showed evident marks of rough usage, having her starboard wheel badly broken, some of the deck-braces broken and bent, her oiner-work forward of the wheel shattered, her hurricane-deck cut into nearly up to the house, and two boats stove. On going on board we obtained the following statement of her first officer, who was in charge of the deck at the time the collision occurred: At 6:45 P. M., November 11, 1874, the steamship Old Dominion left Norfolk for New York in charge of Captain A. G. M. Walker. At 8:20 P. M. passed Bug light. Shortly after having passed the light the captain, not secing any danger ahead, ordered me in charge of the deck. About 8:40 P. M. the man at the lookout reported a bright light on the starboard bow, which I, however, had seen before he did, about two and a half points on the bow. On looking at it with glasses, I could also distinguish both nheld until that point lights of the approaching vessel, but as the red one disappeared I, in order to insure safety in passing her, ordered the wheelsman to steer east by west, feeling quite certain that course ought to clear her, because by that time only the green light could be seen. In a few minutes afterwards blew two whistles, when all of a sudden the schooner's red light reappeared.

either by changing her course or by bad steering, and she headed right for us. I ordered the wheel hard a-starboard, that being the only chance left possible to clear her, but to no avail. Before the ship could swing more than a point, or persue, as heretofore, a conservative haps a point and a half, to the northward, the schooner struck her, bow on-the flying jibboom striking first about forty-eight feet forward of the paddle-box, the hull striking the wheel, causing considerable damage to the steamship and sinking the schooner. We also found on board the steamer the captain the Hamilton Park Reformed and crew-six in all-of the sunken schooner. which proved to have been the Louisa Crockett, Captain A. Flanders, of Rockland, Me .. from Bultimore to New Haven with a cargo of coal. She had passed out the Capes early in church. The man represented the morning, but the weather coming on rough, she put back to Hampton Roads for a harbor. Of the collision and its results, her first officer, Mr. Cline Stevens, says: At half-past S o'clock P. M. the schooner steering (with the captain at the wheel) W. N. W. for the Bug light, saw a large steamer ahead approaching rapidly, the schooner making about ten knots an hour, and the steamer apparently twelve. The schooner held her course, waiting for and four men and two the steamer to port her helm and pass on Fifteen Indians and a that side. When the vessels were quite near each other the steamer put her helm hard a-starboard and crossed the bows of the schooner, when the collision instantly occurred. The flying jibboom of the schooner struck the steamship forward of the wheel, swinging her around and bringing her bows under the guard of the steamer and against the wheel. The colli-

Captain Flanders, who was at the wheel at the time the vessel struck, was thrown around by the concussion and somewhat bruised. He and others owned the vessel, which was insured. The cargo was owned in Baltimore. The crew are in a very destitute condition, having lost everything they had on board. The collision will be the subject of an investigation by

It is supposed that it will be necessary for Louis-ville packers to draw their supplies from a more extensive territory than usual in order to make up their complement. While the supply in Kentucky will be light, to judge from present indications, we learn that Indiana and southern Illinois have ma-terially increased their stock of fattening hogs through receipts from other sections where food-crops were short.—Courier Journal.

the cause of the delay, and has also operated against the distribution of the small supply of means which have been cur. In the mean while the season has favored an economical fattening of bogs.

The local market has been poorly applied with logs, and packers have bought freely at prices which have gradually advanced, as the low stage of stocks of meat and lard lms guaranteed a brisk safe to consumers of the products of early cutting. The stock yard receipts from November 1 to November 7 agaregate 13,909 bogs, and 8,255 have been killed by packers on both sides of the river. The residue are in packers' pens, with the exception of what butchers have taken, none being shipped. The total slaughter to date is about half as large as at this date in the last two seasons. The extreme range of prices for packing weights since the opening is $6.25@$6.75, about 75 per cent, higher than a year ago. During the last few days prices have ruled firm at an average of $6.65@$6.75 or good weights. Hogs have averaged light in weight, but condition has been good.

BALTIMORE CATTLE MARKET.

November 5.—Beef Caltle.—There seems to be a break in the heavy run of cattle from the Virghnias as seen in the very great difference in the numbers this week as compared with those of last week. The market has been fairly active throughweek. The market has been tarry active an out, particularly for tops and neat and fat medium butchers' cattle, the tops being taken for New York. Market prices for the above grade, which are not proportionately in very large supply, are considered Mc. higher, while common cattle have been somewhat a drag at the rates of last week, and reschase in a few gaze lawer.

considered 4c, higher, while common cattle nave been somewhat a drag at the rates of last week, and perhaps in a few cases lower.

Prices to-day for beef cattle ranged as follows: Best beeves at $5.25 \(\tilde{\tilde{8}} \) 6.62; that generally rated first quality, $4\(\tilde{8} \) 5.25 \(\tilde{8} \) 6.62; that generally rated first quality, $4\(\tilde{8} \) 5.25; medium or good fair quality, $4\(\tilde{8} \) 5.25; medium or good fair quality, $4\(\tilde{8} \) 5.25 \(\tilde{8} \) 6.23; medium or good fair quality, $2.25\(\tilde{6} \) 8.3; inferior and lowest grades of cattle—general average of the market to-day, $4.12; extreme range of prices, $2.25\(\tilde{6} \) 6.2. Most of the sales were from $3.87\(\tilde{8} \) $4.87 per 100 lbs. Of the receipts $51 head came from Ohto, 1,338 from Virginia, 1,029 from West Virginia, 115 from Marviand, 145 from Kentucky, 74 from Pennsylvania, 82 from Illinois, 309 from Missouri, and 188 from Tennessee—making the total receipts for the week 4.138 head, against 7,844 head last week, and 3.29 head same time last year. Of the offerings $45 head were taken by Baltimore butchers: 1,227 head sold to York county (Pa.) and Hartford and Carrol county (Md.) dealers, 53 head to Washington city dealers, and 638 head to Fastern speculators. Total sales for the week, 2.813 head, against 3.800 head last week, and 2.513 head same time last year.

Cons.—We mote mileh cows at $35\(\tilde{6} \) $50 per ime last year.

Cows.—We quote milch cows at $35@$50 per nead, and in demand for good.

Hogs.—The market has been active during the Hogs.—The market has been active during the latter part of the week, commencing on Monday morning, at which time the yards had been pretty well cleared out. Prices have advanced about \(\frac{1}{2} \) \(\text{th} \) since our last quotations, and it is thought they will be maint-tied it the weather continues favorable. The supply is much lighter than it was last week, and the quality a shade better. We quote at \(\frac{1}{2} \) \(\frac{ week, 5.451 head, against 8.086 last week, and 6.400 head same time last year.

Sheep and Lambs.—The market for sheep has been very slow during the whole week, there being no Eastern demand whatever, and that on the part of our home butchers quite limited. The receipts are much lighter, but they are fully equal to the demand, and prices show no change. The quality is fully as good as last week. There is some demand for good stock ewes, but they are quite scarce. We quote fat sheep at 4.65c. $\mathbb{R}$ \mathbb{L}$, gross. Stock sheep, $2.043.50 $\mathbb{R}$ head for common to rood. Lambs at $2.084 $\mathbb{R}$ head. Receipts this week, 3.092 head, against 2.854 last week, and 3.323 head same time last year.

CHICAGO LIVE-STOCK MARKET.

NOVEMBER 9 - Cattle. The receipts since Sat-gray were about 3,000 head, which, added to the November 9—Cattle.—The receipts since Saturday were about 3,000 head, which, added to the state stock left over from last week's market, made the supply of common to medium grades largely in excess of the demand, and as a result prices for those grades were again weak and at a wide range. The rapply of good to choice steers was limited, and shippers succeeded in clearing the yards of such at $5@\div 5.75 for the former, and $6@\div 6.75 for the latter. Packers were operating to a fair extent in heavy Texans and Colorado stock, while feeders and city butchers were rather slow in their movements, their operations being comined chiefly to Texans and low grade natives. At the close there was a large amount of common stock left over in the pens.

We quote grades and prices as follows:

Choice Gradei Steers.—This class embraces smooth, well-fattened stocked, from one-fourth to full-blooded Durhams, of 1,400 to 2.000 fbs. average. These were in lighter supply, and prices were steady at $6.25@\div 6.75.

Choice Native-Blood Stock.—In this description we include smooth, well-formed steers of 1,000 to 1.200 fbs. average. These were scarce, and prices smooth, well-fatted, and well-formed stock, from two to sky years old, of 1,150 to 1,300 fbs. average.

were steady at $5.75@$6.

Good to Prime Steers.—This description includes smooth, well-inited, and well-formed stock, from two to six years old, of 1,150 to 1,300 hs. average. There was but a tew of this class on sale, although the demand was good at $5@$5.62\$
Cows and Heifers.—Good to choice lots of 900 to 1,000 hs. average were in light request at $3@$1.000 hs. average were in light request at $3@$1.000 hs. average were in light request at $3@$1.000 hs. average were in light request at $2@$2.75.

Medium to Fair Butchers' Stock.—This description includes rough, fleshy steers, two to six years old, 900 to 1,100 hs. average. These were in large supply, and prices were was at $4@$4 50.

Stock Steers.—This description includes thrifty steers of two and four years, of 900 to 1,900 hs. average; and thrifty steers of one to two years old, of 600 to 800 hs. average. These were in light request at $3.25@$3.75 for the former, $2.59@$3 for the latter. The supply was good.

Inferior to Common Mixed Stock.—This class infunctions, and helfers. There was a good supply of this class, and the demand was light at $2@$2.75.
Northern-fattened Texaus were in fair request at $4@$4.30 for good choice; while through droves were in light demand at $2.25@$3.25 for good fat lots, and $1.50@$2 for common to medium.—Times.
